TWO STATE ELECTIONS.

Returns from Vermont Show Little Republican Interest.

[illegible]e's Majority will be Smallest for Many Years.

Democrats Roll Up Thirty Thousand in Arkansas.

Reciprocity Discussed by Senators Hale and Sherman.

The Vermont Elections.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, September 3. This state to day voted for state officers, two representatives to congress and a full list of state senators and representatives. Fifty towns of 243 in the state give Page, republican, 8198; Brigham, democrat, 4582; Allen, prohibitionist, 340. The republican majority over all in the towns so far heard from is 3373, against 7750 in '88. If the vote in the remaining towns corresponds with those heard from the republican majority will be the smallest since the institution of biennial elections.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt, September 2 One hundred and thirty-five towns give Page, republican, 22,543; Brigham, democrat, 13,202. Allen, prohibitionist, 892 In these towns the republican vote has fallen off 9896; democrats gained 441, while the prohibition vote has fallen but little. If the vote on the remaining towns is relatively the same as those heard from the republican majority will be only about 1500 in the whole state.

Arkansas Returns.

LITTLE ROCK, September 2. Returns from two thirds of the counties were received to night by the Gazette, showing a large increase in the democratic majority. The majority for Governor Eagle will not fall below 30,000. There is no report of disturbance at the polls from anywhere.

Arkansas Troubles

ST. LOUIS, September 2 The Little Rock, Ark, correspondent of the Post-Dispatch telegraphs that the counting of votes in the Third ward is not yet completed, and there are fears of trouble. The vote from E[illegible]man township was brought in last night, closely guarded by armed men. The Capital City Guards (colored) were disbanded this morning, and Adjutant General Eaglend took charge of their arms. This was done because it was rumored that the arms might be used to make trouble. Returns from the election are coming in slowly. A large vote was polled and several days must elapse before full returns can be obtained.

Fifty-First Congress.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, September 2 Senator [illegible] presented resolutions of the [illegible] to merchants exchange favoring [recip]rocity, not only with the nations to [the] south but also with that on the north.

A bill relating to lotteries was reported from the postoffice committee and placed on the calendar, with notification by Sawyer that he would ask consideration as soon as the tariff bill p[asse]d.

The tariff bill was then taken up and the sugar schedule considered.

Carlisle gave notice that he would move to strike out all the paragraphs relative to sugar bounties.

Hale offered a reciprocity amendment, of which he had given notice on the 29th of June, and addressed the senate upon the desirability of such interchange of products as the amendment proposed. He said it had been a subject which had given rise to the closest attention, and had resulted in grave and pertinent suggestion from eminent public men of the United States during the last 30 years. Moreover, there had been a general, gradual falling off of American trade with Central and South America and the isles of the sea. The people of all these countries had a common interest with the people of the United States. Alluding to the late pan-American congress Hale said it proved that the same considerations which had their influence in the United States, were also moving in the minds of eminent men from the sister republics who took part in the proceedings of that congress, and that they pointed to one sure, inevitable end, increase of trade between the United States and these people. These considerations which applied to an extension of trade and increased interchange of products applied not only to the nations of Central and South America but to the islands of the Spanish Main.

Hale assured the senators who represented sorghum and beet sugar districts that he was not in antagonism with them. If those senators objected to the policy of trying to secure some benefits from those countries for repeal on their sugar, he asked them how much more they ought to object to the unreserved repeal of those duties It would be, he declared, a policy not much short of lunacy to repeal the sugar duties unless the repeal was used to obtain some benefits for the products of American labor. To him one thing was as sure as the tides and sunrise, and that was that the policy suggested by the president and secretary of state, and which had secured the attention and approval of the wisest statesmen in the last 30 years, was a policy that had come to stay with the American people. There never was a time more fitted to try the experiment than now, and to his mind the amendment which he offered was the most fitting solution of the question.

Allison made a long statement of the receipts and expenditures of the government and the probable effect of the tariff bill on finances. He said the total expenditures for the current fiscal year would be $411,000,000, and the total revenues, including postal receipts and everything, would be $460,000,000. If there were no tariff bill to be passed, and if the solution remained unchanged, there would be a surplus of revenue over expenditures for the current fiscal year of $49,000,000. He had not included in the expenditures the amount that would be paid for silver or claims against the government other than those which have passed congress He figures out an increase of $27,000,000 of revenue under the pending bill, against a decrease of $10,500,000 from putting sugar and other articles on the free list, so that $98,500,000 had to be taken off from the surplus of $49,000,000, leaving [illegible] $15,000,000 surplus at the end of the year, paying nothing on the sinking fund. Taking into account the balance now in the treasury, $107,000,000, and this surplus, Allison calculated the secretary of the treasury would have $78,000,000 on the 1st of July '91, unless in the meantime he redeemed 4½ per cent bonds, as he (Allison) hoped the secretary would proceed to do without delay. He declared that in his judgment it was a wi[se] thing to take off sugar duties He had not the slight[est] [illegible] to come. He was also in favor of the further extension of reciprocal trade, but hoped that in any such arrangement it would be seen to that the United States had its just share of the bargain.

Gibson offered an amendment to the sugar schedule by adding the words "syrup of beet, sorghum or sugar cane" He made an argument against the sugar bounty proposition, and said it was a miserable dwindling away from Blaine's broad and generous proposition of full reciprocity.

Sherman expressed his views on the subject of reciprocity, and spoke of the difficulties in the way of reciprocity by treaty. The first proposition of Hale's amendment was a most startling one It authorized the president of the United States, without further legislation, to declare the ports of the United States free and open to all products of any nation of the American hemisphere on which no export duties are imposed, Was Cuba, he asked, a nation? He knew Senator Hale said he meant to include Cuba, but was Canada embraced in that list of nations? He had asked the senator that question and the senator had replied. "No, that is quite a different thing." If any reciprocal trade arrangements were made with any country they ought to be made with Canada.

He went on to criticize unfavorably Hale's amendment as one that would allow free importation of wool, copper, zinc, iron, gold, silver, lead ores, etc, but was informed by Hale that the amendment had not been carefully drawn, but was simply intended to propose the principle of reciprocity. His own amendment had been intended to apply to only three or four articles, sugar, coffee, rubber and nitrates.

He was reminded by Sherman that Cuba produced no coffee and no rubber, so the arrangement with Cuba could only be as to the article of sugar.

Hale "If there is nothing to trade upon without advantage then there will be no trade made. The plan which I suggested is comprehensive, but it is not definite. If there is nothing to make a bargain upon, that settles the question."

Sherman "My friend from Maine is whittling down this magnificent theory until there is nothing of it left."

Spooner suggested an amendment to apply to Canada, putting a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem on green coffee, and three cents a pound and 10 per cent ad valorem on roots and ground coffee, and 10 per cent on tea.

Recess until 8 p. m

In the evening session Gibson moved as a substitute for the sugar schedule the paragraph in the existing law imposing duties on sugar.

Dolph concluded his speech against any reciprocity with Canada in the matter of coal, timber or agricultural products

The senate at 10 p. m adjourned.

HOUSE.

In the house this morning Lacey of Iowa called up and the house proceeded to consideration of the Clayton Breckinridge election case.

Cooper of Ohio opened the debate. He described the state of affairs leading up to the assassination of Clayton, and said it was the opinion of the majority that they grew directly out of the political methods adopted in that country ballot box stealing, stuffing, intimidation and murder merely followed each other. In conclusion he paid a high encomium on the people of the state of Arkansas, contending that if the election methods in vogue in that state were abandoned the commonwealth would soon be alive with industry and manufactures

Wilson, of Missouri, joined with the gentleman from Ohio in his panegyric upon the people of Arkansas, but he regretted that the gentleman had only to-day discovered how good the people of Arkansas were. If he had discovered it sooner he could never have signed the majority report. The instigator of the investigation was Powell Clayton. But Clayton was the dead man's brother, and while he would say to Powell Clayton in the language of the Almighty, "Vengeance is mine. I will repay," he could not forget the fact that if Powell Clayton could divest himself of the hopeful influence of "Poker Jack" McClure he would be himself again and would not pursue Breckinridge from motives of vengeance.

The case went over until to-morrow, and Cannon took the floor in a statement relative to the appropriation made by this session of congress.

Sayers, a member of the appropriations committee, reviewed the financial situation from the democratic standpoint.

A bill was passed declaring Rock Island a port of delivery.

The speaker announced the appointment of Flick, of Iowa, as a member of the Raum investigating committee in place of S[illegible]yser, resigned.

The Single Tax Convention.

NEW YORK, September 2 At to day's meeting of the single tax convention there was formally organized the "National League of Single Tax Clubs of the United States"

At the afternoon session a committee report was read in the shape of resolutions setting forth that the delegates here assembled are organized into a National Single Tax league. All organizations subscribing to the national single tax platform are eligible for membership. A general committee shall have power to elect a known single tax man from the states and territories not represented in the conference to serve until a single tax organization in their respective localities elect successors.

The resolutions further say: "While the league is an organization that seeks to incorporate its views in law through political action, we gladly recognize the religious feeling that animates the desire for justice, and recommend the co operation of such of the parties in full accord with our view as may be organized to advocate single tax on ethical grounds." The report was adopted.

Five delegates at large, who with the delegate from each state in the conference and one from the District of Columbia, will constitute the national convention, were elected as follows. Wm. T. Croasdale, Louis F. Post, August Lewis, Richard Gordon, and G. St. Johns Leurens Among the state committeemen are: H. L. Place, of California, and Jas W. Bucklin, of Colorado Adjourned until to-morrow.

THE INQUIRY BEGUN.

Webb Appears Before the New York Arbitration Board.

He Gives his Reason for Discharging Central Employes.

Powderly, Holland and Other Knights of Labor Testify.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor Represents the Organization.

Investigation of the Strike.

NEW YORK, September 2 The state board of arbitration began investigation here to day as to the dispute existing between the New York Central railroad and Knights of Labor. Third Vice President Webb. of the New York Central, was the first witness, and said the company had no controversy with its employes. On August 8th a large number of employes left and their places had been filled, and the alleged cause was that 78 members out of 20,000 had been discharged. They were discharged for good cause, but only seven of these men applied to the company for information as to why they were discharged. Subsequently, a gentleman from another state called and wanted to know why the men were discharged. Witness declined to give the reason. This gentleman was Mr. Holland. Upon being cross examined by General Roger Pryor, Webb said he had discharged the men on reports from members of the secret service of the company. The charge itself was unsatisfactory service. An engineer named Lee was discharged for unsatisfactory service. Lee was very arrogant and insolent and said he would tie up every wheel between here and Buffalo if he did not get some of the Vanderbilt money.

Continuing Webb said several of the men knew the cause for which they were discharged. Their relation with the Knights of Labor had nothing to do with their discharge.

Mr Pryor endeavored to find out if the Knights of Labor question had been discussed by the board of directors, but the board declined to admit the question. "That shuts us off," remarked Pryor, turning around to the Knights of Labor executive committee.

Webb said he had arranged for the services of Pinkerton's men some time before the strike. When asked about the details of the arrangement Webb declined to answer. He did not seek the protection of the police authorities.

Webb was followed by members of the Knights of Labor dismissed by the New York Central. Their testimony went over the ground of the alleged supposed cause of dismissal and incidents connected therewith, already substantially covered in these dispatches.

Holland and Devlin, of the executive committee, testified to their effort to bring about a settlement of the difficulty by arbitration. E. J. Lee introduced correspondence between himself and Powderly On August 2d Powderly wrote. I regret to hear of the condition of affairs. If there is to be trouble it will be when Depew is away. I advise you to avoid a strike at all hazards, as the order cannot support you now. Act on the following suggestion Select from your men such as are good and reliable and secure places for them in the west. Then have them ask for shorter hours and higher wages This the road will not grant. Then have them quit and take the new places secured for them. Do this secretly and wait until Depew returns He is a presidential candidate and would not care for a strike on his road.

Powderly was next called. Pending the strike he had no interview with any of the road's officials. He related his interview with Webb, and brought out nothing new.

Rail. and Train Held Up.

MOBILE, Ala., September 2. The Louisville & Nashville "cannon ball" train last night was held up at Pensacola Junction by robbers, who entered the express car and compelled the messenger to give up the contents of the safe. It is not known at this time the extent of the l[oss]. Having secured the valuables, the robbers jumped off and took to the woods.

Engineer Bob Sizer says he was just pulling out, and just as his train got under way he turned around and a man was standing near him Before he could ask a question or look twice, two big revolvers were in his face. He was then told to run his train up to the Escambia river bridge, some miles distant, and stop on the bridge. There was nothing left for him but to obey. He did so. The engineer was told to get off his engine. Then the robber directed Sizer to go to the express car and force an entrance, the robber putting a heavy mallet in his hand. Sizer did so, and burst open the car door. The express messenger, Archie Johnson, was standing in his car with a pistol in his hand, but seeing Sizer he lowered it. The next minute he was covered and told to lay down his gun, and he obeyed. Then the robber standing in the door compelled the messenger to open the safe and hand him all the money. While this operation was going on, the fellow was standing in the door coolly looking at his victim and firing first one side of the train and then the other to overawe the passengers and train crew. When he had got the money the robber told Sizer to follow him. The man showed the way to the engine, made Sizer pull out, and with a parting shot and a wild yell dashed off in the bushes and was lost to sight. A posse has left Flomaton and another has left Mobile in pursuit of the robber.

Marine Di[saste]r.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 2. Captain Noble, of the ship J. B Godfrey, reports that he spoke the bark Henry Buck 70 days from New Castle, N. S. W., several hundred miles off the New England coast. She was flying signals of distress and Captain Miller, of the Buck, signalled that she had been dismantled by a hurricane. He said the crew had been on short rations for several days, and begged for supplies. Captain Noble attempted to launch a small boat, but she was stove in by the waves. He was unable therefore to render any assistance. The Buck is now out 90 days from New Castle and nothing more has been heard from her It is thought she has been lost. She was loaded with coal, and carried a big crew.

LONDON, September 2 The British steamer Portuenz, Captain Hews, from New York, August 17th, for Para and Macro, has foundered on Anegda island, British West Indies. Nineteen of her crew are known to have been saved The captain, first and third officers, chief engineer, two stewards, boatswain, carpenter, a fireman and a seaman are missing.

Rocky Ford's Festival.

DENVER, September 3. The celebration of the fourth annual watermelon festival at Rocky Ford on Thursday promises to be one of the most successful celebrations ever held in southern Colorado. Five special trains of twelve cars each from points along the route of the Santa Fe road will be run for the accommodation of the participants, one from Canon City, one from Colorado Springs, one from Trinidad, one from Pueblo, and one from Lamar. The special low rates from all points in the state have been taken advantage of to such an extent that preparations have been made by the citizens of Rocky Ford for the entertainment of 6,000 people.

The State Press association which meets here to morrow will leave here on a special sleeper attached to the regular Santa Fe train for their annual excursion to Las Vegas Hot Springs. They will stop over at Rocky Ford and take part in the celebration on Thursday. Another sleeper will be occupied by the state and city officials.

New Hampshire Democrats.

CONCORD, September 2 The democratic state convention was called to order by Chairman Stone, and after the call had been read the organization was approved and the permanent president, J. P. Bartlett, of Manchester, was escorted to the chair and delivered an address.

The platform adopted declares that republican tariff reform has resulted in heavier burdens to the people; denounces the McKinley bill as a "deed of conveyance to a combination of manufacturers and trusts," denounces the ruling of Reed as despotism: the seating of Montana senators as grand larceny. It favors pension legislation, tariff reform and denounces the force bill. Charles H Amsden, of Penacook, was nominated for governor.

W. R. C. Instituted.

Yesterday was a gala day for the G A R post of this city, as it marked the organization and institution of a Woman's Relief Corps in this city. For some time a number of the loyal women of the city have been discussing the matter of organizing a corps, and a paper was circulated to secure the names of those who would join. The list quickly swelled beyond the expectation of those who had the matter in charge, and yesterday the organization was completed, some 31 members taking the obligation. It was really a re-organization, there having been a relief corps a number of years ago, and the corps takes the same number in the state organization that the old corps held, No 4. Mrs. America Anderson, of Denver, president of the state department, came down yesterday to institute the corps. The meeting was held in the rooms of Post No. 22 at 3 o'clock and the following officers were elected President, Ella L. C. Dwinell, senior vice president, Amanda J. Bosworth; junior vice president, Lucy F. Wheeler, secretary, Nellie B. Hewitt; treasurer, Viola A. Hunter, chaplain, Elizabeth J. Farrar; conductor, Miss Minnie A Nevins; guard, Jennie Ficel, assistant conductor, Hattie G. Smalley; assistant guard, Laura E. Farrar.

The objects and aims of the Women's Relief corps are auxiliary to the G. A. R., and are three fold—charitable, social and patriotic. All loyal women are eligible whether the wives, mothers or daughters of old soldiers. Corps No. 4 will meet in the afternoons of the second and fourth Tuesdays in each month in the post room.

The members of G. A. R. Post No 22 feel very greatly encouraged by this demonstration on the part of the women and are not a bit loth to express their feelings. Last night they held a camp fire in the post rooms that was largely attended, and a reception was tendered the ladies There was a social good time, followed by a fine lunch prepared by Quartermaster Heron and his aides. Following this there were speeches and singing of patriotic songs. Among those who spoke were Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Dwinell, Comrade Linus Sherman, who was the first commander of the post, Colonel Spielman of Iowa, Comrades Heron, Sprague, M M. Baldwin of Woodland Park, and Commander Corman. There was plenty of jesting and laughter, but most of the speeches were in the nature of congratulation on account of the step taken by the women in organizing the corps. A corps is also to be organized in Colorado City and Manitou.

District Court.

Judge Campbell, although not feeling very well yesterday morning, opened the district court, and heard the application for habeas corpus on behalf of Samuel Wilson, John Kain and Lou Brownell, the men who are charged with attempting to pick Father Bender's pockets Mr. John W. Lewis represented the petitioners, assisted by Edgar Caypless of Denver, while Messrs. Cochran and Lunt appeared in behalf of Sheriff Jackson, the respondent.

At the close of the arguments, the court intimated that he thought the prisoners should be remanded, but no order was entered, and the case was continued until Friday.

In the case against Wilson for carrying concealed weapons Judge Campbell held that Justice Barker had no jurisdiction and the case will not stand.

In the case of W. W. Kimball against A. F. Hunt, default for want of answer was entered and judgment for the sum of [illegible] was entered, also judgment [illegible] for $[illegible].

Court will not sit until Friday at 2 o'clock.

For Shorter Hours.

LIVERPOOL, September 3. At the session of the trades union congress to day Mr. Watkin, president of the congress, delivered an address in which he said he hoped the results of the congress would encourage a great labor revival. We had undoubtedly arrived to energetically try to secure a working day of eight hours. He did not think the bill providing for such working days should be forced through the house of commons immediately, irrespective of the wish of the industries effected, but there was no reason why the eight hour day should not be considered immediately by those occupations which unmistakably wanted it. He advocated direct representation of labor in parliament, state control of railways and the solution of the land question by naturalization.

Organization of Capital.

LONDON, September 3. The long-projected shipping union was formed in London to day. Its avowed object is to deal with labor questions throughout the world, and especially to resist the tyranny of trade unions, to protect employes from terrorism and to generally promote shipping interests. The official report of the meeting avers that several passenger lines and the bulk of the cargo trade were represented at the meeting. The union represents a capital of 260,000,000 pounds.

A ... Disaster.

NEW ORLEANS, La., September 2. The Schwartz building, an immense four-story brick building, fell at 1.30 o'clock. It is reported ten ... were killed by falling debris. This is one of the most crowded thoroughfares of the city. It is found that ... the scaffolding of the building had fallen, precipitating five men to the ground. Hurley, a carpenter, was killed; Wm. Ray and Henry Al... fatally injured, while two painters were painfully hurt.

A ... Failure.

BOSTON, September 2. It was reported this afternoon that a note of the Worcester ... mill works was protested. The capital of the company is $500,000, but the ... gives no ratings. The failure is the outcome of the Potter-Lovell & Co. failure.

... Liberal ...

SALT LAKE, September 2. County Clerk elect Allen, the first liberal county officer, entered on his official duties to day. County Recorder Rumel, Mormon, also succeeded the former incumbent. The liberals elected six out of nine county officers at the late election.

Driven ...

PARIS, September 2. Turkish soldiers at Jerusalem have expelled the Franciscan fathers from the city. The French consul protested against their expulsion, but without avail.

th. That the defendant's said ditch by the district court of El Paso y, in the year 1882, in the adjudi of the priorities of water rights ter district No. 10, adjudicated to 32, and said original pipe line like manner adjudicated to be No Ruxton creek, and that there are 31 priations of water upon said Fountain creek, that are prior to the defendaid ditch, which are of capacities at in times of scarcity to take all waters of said creek for agricul purposes; so that in order that de t have the use of water when it it, it must to a great extent inter with said appropriations that are o its ditch and pipe lines and in g the said water rights of plaintiff.

th. That the defendant has conly, including the months from to October of each year, since the 871 to the present year, taken from aters of said Fountain creek, h its said El Paso County canal, to the capacity of said canal, and as taken continuously through its riginal pipe line, the water of Ruxton creek, continuously since ar 1878, waters to the full capacity d original pipe line, claiming it e right so to do, and though the ff and other prior appropriators ters of said Fountain creek, have o a greater or less degree, for and each of said periods, injuriously d thereby, they have failed to ob hereto and to assert any prior rights propriation he or they had to the so taken by the defendant, yet said s, including the plaintiff, now damages therefor of the defendant he full amount of their respective al appropriations without diminu f the amounts so taken and appro d by the defendant, which defend ll pay to them unless enjoined by ourt.

That the defendant be enjoined purchasing prior water rights upon ountain creek, with a view of having the water belonging to such prior to defendant's said canal and pipe line for the use of its inhabitants.

2. That defendant be enjoined from negotiating and settling with said prior appropriators upon Fountain creek, upon the basis that upon the settlement provided for under said sub division 73 of section 3312, general statutes, that such prior appropriator will be deprived of all his right, title, claim and priority, in and to the waters of Fountain creek

3. And for such other and further relief as the statement of facts herein may warrant to the plaintiff

The points in controversy and upon which the decision of the court is asked, are as follows.

I. Have the persons who hold prior appropriations of water in Fountain creek, any right to the waters of the Ruxton creek below their confluence, over the defendant, it being the only appropriator who takes water out of the Ruxton creek before its confluence with the Fountain creek. In other words, are the waters of the Ruxton creek to be considered a tributary of the Fountain creek and is the prior appropriator on the Fountain creek, below the mouth of the Ruxton creek, entitled to have the waters of the Ruxton creek flow into the Fountain creek to supply the appropriation, if needed, as against a subsequent appropriator upon the Ruxton creek?

II. The waters through the defendant's pipe line being used as stated, is their use a domestic use? The waters of defendant's El Paso county canal, being used as stated, is that a domestic use? and if so has the defendant the right to take the said waters without compensation to the prior appropriator who uses the water for agricultural or manufacturing purposes?

III. Can the defendant city purchase the water right of a farmer who uses the water for irrigating his crops on the Fountain creek below the city, and transfer the use of his water right to the city through its said pipe line or El Paso County canal, and so use that water for city purposes, as against other prior appropriators on said stream, which are inferior to the person from whom the right is purchased but superior to the city's right before that purchase?

IV. How is the prior appropriator affected as to his prior rights upon the stream, by settling his damages with the city or by the city's condemnation thereof under the eminent domain act, as provided for in sub division 78 of section 3312, general statutes, 1883? Does such appropriator thereby lose all his rights acquired by his said appropriation and have no rights left him as to other appropriators of waters upon said creek, or does he retain his rights of appropriation upon the stream, subject only to the burden of the amount of waters taken by the city?

V. Has the acquiescence of the plaintiff and others in the use of the waters of Fountain creek by the defendant, through its said ditch or canal since and including the year 1872 to the present date and of the use through defendant's pipe line, since and including the year 1878, given the defendant the right to the water so taken as against the plaintiff and the other persons so acquiescing? Can the plaintiff and others so acquiescing in the defendant's so using the water through said ditch or canal or through said original pipe line, for the periods of time above stated, now be heard to complain?

VI. Have persons who have never been able to take and use the full amount of water found in said decree to be appropriated by them because of any of the reasons stated in paragraph 11 of the statement of facts herein, the right to claim damages of defendant to the full amount of their respective decreed appropriations in the settlement of their damages because of the defendant's said use and appropriations of water, or can such persons claim damages only upon such amount as they can show they have really used, according to the actual carrying capacities of their respective ditches, the number of acres of land actually cultivated?

Prof. Chapman's Recitations.

The South Congregational church was comfortably filled last night at the recitations given by Prof. F. A. Chapman. The evening's entertainment was opened by the delivery of Longfellow's poem, "King Alfred of Sicily." The selection was given with great power and feeling and was followed by a hush which spoke far more than would the clapping of many hands of the power of the speaker. Mrs Seldomridge then sang a solo, "Sunset," accompanied by Miss Prentiss. It was well sung and vigorously applauded. Prof. Chapman then gave a variety of selections concluding with a humorous account of "The Man who Apologized." In answer to an encore, then recited a dialect parody entitled "Paddy's Excelsior," which brought down the house. The evening closed with another solo by Mrs Seldomridge entitled, "In the Chimney Corner." Prof. Chapman is a very vivid recitationist. He has a well modulated voice which he has in complete control and uses to good effect.

Justice L. B. Farrar yesterday received a check for the full amount due him from the Odd Fellows Fraternal Accident association on account of the loss of his hand. It will be remembered that a year ago last 4th of July Mr. Farrar lost his hand on account of the explosion of a cannon fire cracker. He was insured, but the company has been unable to collect and pay the money due him until now. Mr. Farrar gives all the credit for the collection to his attorney, Mr Keys, of Boston, who industriously pushed the matter.

Prof John E. Ray and family, who have been spending the summer in North Carolina, returned on Monday. Professor Ray has greatly improved and is in the best of health. The Mute and Blind institute will open for the school year 1890-91 next Wednesday, in the new buildings.

In returning home from his shoe store at 21 Pike's Peak avenue last night, Mr. M. Conway lost a pocket book containing some checks and nearly $100 in cash. In the advertising column he offers a liberal reward for its return.

There are telegrams at the Western Union office for B. A. Burghardt, C. S. Belford, May McSpadden and E. C. Paso & Co.

There will be a dance at the pavilion at Cheyenne canon this evening.

British Ships at Toulon.

PARIS, September 2. In response to an invitation extended by Admiral Rieunier, naval commander at Toulon, the British Mediterranean squadron, Vice Admiral Hoskins commanding, entered the harbor at Toulon this morning. As the war ship entered the port a salute of 21 guns was fired, which was answered from the shore batteries. The flag of France was then hoisted upon the British flagship and saluted with 15 guns. The French ironclad Formidable and the Spanish ironclad Pelayo each ran the British ensign to her foremast head and fired a salute in its honor.

W. S. [illegible], Sergt. Signal Corps.

Mr. Will C. Briscoe has resumed his old position with the Chicago bakery for the winter.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Church of the Strangers.

County court will be opened to day, and Judge Severy will begin reading the docket promptly at 10 o'clock this morning.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to W. W. Comer, of Hoxie, Kas., and Miss Dimis C. Morrish, of Colorado City.

Over 1100 cords of wood during the [illegible] thirty days have been shipped from here by the Kirk Bros. [Eastonville World.

J. E. Rudd, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, is visiting his son, Thos. E. Rudd, of Pike's Peak avenue. He is much pleased with this city.

Those interested in any branch of decorative or plastic art should examine the advertisement of Miss Warner in the business locals.

Dr. R. R. Teller, wife and child, who have been stopping at The Antlers the past few days, leave for their home in Aspen this morning.

The Santa Fe is building a stone side-walk from Pike's Peak avenue to its depot. It was much needed and is a great convenience to passengers.

The fall term of Colorado college and Cutler academy will begin Wednesday, September 24th, and the entrance examinations are to be held Tuesday, September 23.

C. E. Evans & Co., on Saturday, put the new fall style of Dunlap hat on sale. The Dunlap fall block was released on the 30th of August, this year, and is one of the handsomest ever gotten up.

The agency of A. N. Peale & Co. sold Saturday to W. F. Shockley, lot 30, block 5, in Washington Heights addition, for $150. Also yesterday, to John Aiken, lot 15 and 16 in same block, for $215.

Both the Mansions and the Iron Springs hotels at Manitou closed their doors for the season Monday morning. All report themselves satisfied with the season, declaring it to have been one of the [illegible].

Cards have been issued announcing the marriage of Mr. John S. Tucker and Miss Fannie Aiken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Aiken, on Thursday, September 11th, 1890, at 5.30 p. m., in the First Presbyterian church.

The city schools opened yesterday for the fall term with a large attendance, and all teachers in their places. The new portion of the Lillier school is not ready, but the classes of the various grades to be accommodated there have all been completed and the time is being divided between them in the old portion. The delay now in regard to selecting plans for the new high school building is on account of selecting the best methods of heating, lighting and ventilating.

The Presbyterian Sunday school has been donated a library of 125 books, by the Sunday school at Danville, Ill. The school has a fine lot of No. 5 Gospel Hymns, an organ, the gift of H. Y. Nichols and relatives, is soon expected. Bids for a neat cabinet to hold the books are being asked for. The slips designating the name of the Sunday school and number of the book have been kindly donated by the GAZETTE Printing company, of Colorado Springs. There is no good reason why we cannot have a first-class Sunday school here. All it needs is for everyone to turn out. A sing of half an hour before time of school would be pleasant to many. [Eastonville World.

H. T. O'Brien, the Pike's Peak harness dealer, forgot about the ordinance concerning the throwing of advertising matter promiscuously on the streets and permitted his employes to distribute blotting pads during the big parade Monday containing his advertisement. Yesterday, at the request of City Marshal Dana, Mr. O'Brien stepped into Magistrate Kinsley's court and paid $2 fine and costs, amounting to $6.95. Mr. O'Brien says he paid up cheerfully because it is a good law, but he has got the biggest kind of a line of harness, saddles, driving goods, trunks and valises, that he wants to reduce before moving into his elegant new quarters in the Prewitt block. He proposes to sell them cheap and is going to advertise the fact, but will do it through the legitimate columns of the newspapers hereafter.

Central Office for Austin Bluff Property.

The finest Suburban Residence Location combining view of mountain and plain in the state. Beautiful parks, overgrown with large pine trees unequalled as a health location. Pure air, pure water, and plenty of it, both for domestic and irrigating purposes. No smoke! No dust! The track of the Electric Car Line is already laid from one of the parks in the center of this property to the city limits. Cars will be running within a few weeks, bringing this property within fifteen minutes' ride from the postoffice. Several fine residences will be erected on this property at an early date. Special Inducements offered for the next 60 days to parties buying lots with the intention of building at once. Why locate in the smoke and dust of our city when such an opportunity is offered? Each lot contains from one to four acres. Specially adapted for fine residences. This location speaks for itself. All that we ask is an inspection of the property before purchasing.

EDWARD FERRIS,

(Agent for Eastern Capitalists)

Real Estate, Loans, Investments.

Special Pointers to Investors:

If you want to purchase for speculation or personal use improved residence property, desirable business property, vacant lots or acreage property, on which you can make from 50 to 100 per cent in a short time, come and look at the following:

SPECIAL BARGAINS:

COLORADO SPRINGS.

An improved corner on Cascade avenue below the College; ground 1??x190 feet; paying 8 per cent net and growing in value every day.

An entire block in the north end of the city, fronting on Nevada avenue and Weber street, for sale as a whole or in lots.

A first class business property on Tejon St. now [illegible] and paying 10 per cent net, and is increasing in value every year.

A splendid nine-room modern house in the extreme north end of the city, occupying one hundred feet of ground. A very desirable property for the money.

Four new pressed brick houses fronting on Tejon street and Nevada avenue, above the College [illegible]; handsome and modern in every respect.

A furnished house in a most desirable locality; rented on a lease at a price that will pay the purchaser 12 per cent net.

One hundred feet on North Weber in a desirable location, only three blocks from the park.

COLORADO SPRINGS.

Two lots fronting west on Cascade avenue in the midst of the most costly improvements now being made in the city.

TRINIDAD.

A tract of 40 acres one mile from the center of the city, at $300 per acre, immediately adjoining land that is selling for $800 per acre.

Business property on Main st., in the heart of the city, near the new hotel; has 66 feet front and is 190 feet deep. Rented at $600 per year and will double in value in two years.

Six hundred and forty acres two miles from the center of the city, in the direction of the most rapid business and residence growth, at $75 per acre. This property offers a great opportunity and I believe that in five years it will pay the purchaser two hundred thousand dollars profit. Other acreage property in the same location is held at from two to three hundred dollars per acre. A good chance for a syndicate.

Two forty-acre tracts in the most [illegible] and desirable part of the city; only a [illegible] distance north of the new Mineral Palace [illegible] purchaser is sure to make 100 per cent profit.

Several first-class business properties on Santa Fe avenue, now paying ten per cent net in rents and rapidly growing in value.

A large number of vacant lots and improved residence properties at prices that will pay the purchaser large profits and good incomes.
